Research Application Checklist

I have checked to see that my application complies with the following requirements:

1. The application has the prior approval of the agency or institution with whom the researcher is affiliated. For example, if you are associated with a university, it is required that your proposal successfully completes the ethical review process in your organization prior to submission to Roots of Empathy. A copy of the ethics approval is submitted with this application.
2. The Roots of Empathy research application is completed; it is not acceptable to fill out various sections of the application by referring to other documents or materials submitted. The application is submitted in a typed form (handwritten applications will not be accepted).
3. Copies of all data collection instruments are included. Insofar as possible, copies should be final. Any changes to the submitted data collection instruments require review and written approval by Roots of Empathy.
4. A copy of an Information Letter to Schools and/or Early Childhood Education Centre that outlines the purpose and scope of the study, and includes the commitments required of all potential participants is included.
5. Parental permission is required for any research involving students under 18 years of age. Copies of information letters and consent forms for students/children and/or parents must be included with the application materials. In some cases, the Research Review Committee may request the translation of these materials.
6. The demands on participants have been considered.
7. The names of preferred schools have been provided. (This is not required but may expedite the application process.)
8. Pledge that certification of a Criminal Records Background Check will be submitted for any person(s) who will have direct involvement with students/children.
9. Five (5) hard copies of the research application form and supporting materials have been included.
